From the Revd Sally

Dear Friends

Welcome to September and hopefully a cooler tone to the air. We begin the month by celebrating together creation and all that God has provided for us. The season of Creation, which lasts till Harvest on Sunday 4th October will focus this year on Living water. After the summer we have had with hotter temperatures and lack of rain this topic is a very valid one for us to be exploring.

From the Season of Creation website: "The Biblical text for this year is drawn from Ezekiel 47: 1- 12, which portrays God's life-giving water flowing from the temple of God. The river grows deeper and deeper restoring barren land, reviving waters, and sustaining flourishing ecosystems. The vision invites human responsibility: recognising ecological damage, embracing interconnectedness, we are called to immerse ourselves in the water, actively safeguarding and working for the renewal of creation so that environmental healing and human well-being may flourish together."

In our services during this time, we will be not only be focusing on the environment but on our call by God to be custodians of the created world and building His kingdom on our precious and glorious planet. Roger has also written in this month's issue about the season of creation, so please read his article.

We begin our season of creation with the annual open air communion service on Sunday 6th September, focusing on Living Water. On this day we will also be welcoming Helen our new Director of Music and saying a final farewell to Paul at an evensong service. Please come and welcome Helen as she begins her new role.

On Sunday 13th September at 11.00am Andy Mussell will be ordained deacon at Chelmsford Cathedral. He has been worshipping with us this past year while he finished his studies and now becomes our curate. Please pray for Andy as he makes this step in his walk with God and join us all on Sunday 20th September as he takes his first service as Reverend Andy (yes, we now have two Revd Andys) and stay for refreshments afterwards.

After the success of last year, we are holding a harvest supper and quiz evening on Saturday 3rd October all ages and intellects welcome for food and fun.

It seems that we are moving into a great period at All Saints', with new beginnings and possibilities and I continue to thank God for all that he enables us to do and pray that we continue to serve the people of Springfield and share the Good News of Christ in our community.

Blessings

Season of Creation 2026

In September, All Saints' will once again be joining with Christians the world over to celebrate the Season of Creation.

The theme this year is 'Living Water', inspired by Isaiah 47:9,12. Living during a disastrous period of history, Ezekiel was granted a vision of hope: flowing from God's Temple he saw a great life-giving river whose fruit was for food, and whose leaves were for healing. In the face of today's climate and nature crisis, we too can draw hope from Ezekiel's vision of divine healing that renews land, water, biodiversity and human responsibility towards the whole of creation. Through the water of baptism, we too can be renewed, so that living water can flow from us for the healing of the earth and everything that lives.

The symbol for 2026 represents 'Immersion in Living Water' (see front cover). The water flowing from the Temple is a sign of God's caring and healing for us. We are called to step into the water until we are so deep that we must depend on God's Spirit to sustain us.

All Saints' will celebrate the Season of Creation between the Festival of Creation in Christ on Sunday 6th September and Harvest Festival on Sunday 4th October. All our services during this period will have an element of caring for creation in the preaching, prayers, and music. There will be four special events:

- On Sunday 6th September at 10.30 am there will be an outdoor Communion service for everyone in the churchyard, focused on the 'Living Water' theme.

Please bring a re-usable bottle or mug full of water, which will be poured into a font and blessed during the service.

In this special service we will reaffirm our commitment to care for God's Earth. After the service there will be an opportunity to enjoy your picnic lunch. For more details please see All Saints' Weekly Sheet. The collection will be donated to the Eco Church charity A Rocha.

- On Sunday 27th September, like last year, there will be a 'Days of Creation Walk', with pauses for reflection in some of Springfield's beautiful green (or brown!) spaces, followed by refreshments in the church hall (see the next page). There will be a shorter walk option for those who prefer it. We will meet together at 2.30pm in All Saints' churchyard for the start of the walk.
- On Saturday 3rd October, there will be a Harvest Quiz in the hall ... Full details are on the back page of this magazine.
- Sunday 4th October will be our Harvest Festival, with a Worship Together service in church at 10.30am, and gifts for Chelmsford Foodbank.

*As part of our celebration of the Season of Creation, please join us

Please wear suitable clothes and shoes. The walk includes one short flight of steps, and should last about 1 – 1½ hours.

*There will be a shorter walk option without steps for those who prefer it.

‘A Spiritual and Cultural Crisis’ – Bishop Guli

Trust in the Lord and do good. Then you will live safely in the land and prosper. Psalm 37:3

In June 2026, Bishop Guli addressed Chelmsford Diocesan Synod on the environmental crisis. This article comprises extracts from her address.

David Attenborough is certainly someone who has spent a lifetime noticing God's world. He has made an extraordinary contribution to opening the eyes of millions of others to what we might call the wonder and blessing of God's Creation.

However, in recent years Sir David has not only noticed and described the natural world but raised the alarm about what it is he's seeing. He recently observed: "We have allowed our natural world and climate to reach breaking point," explaining further: "We are facing a man-made disaster of global scale. Our greatest threat in thousands of years is climate change. If we don't take action, the collapse of our civilisations and the extinction of much of the natural world is on the horizon."

The scientific evidence of human-induced climate change is now accepted by over 99% of studies published in the field. There is also mounting evidence, across all continents, about resulting wildlife loss, mortality and morbidity. Yet, despite good intentions by the Church and others, including at governmental level, backed by mounting evidence of effects, and stark warnings from experts – the world seems incapable of taking sufficient action to prevent the increased destruction and suffering due to our environmental crises. And we in the church are struggling too. Why is that?

Well, in large part because it is very complicated. There's a lack of human and financial resources in relation to reducing carbon emissions. More widely, structural, regulatory and logistic barriers exist in ensuring the sustainability of new housing and in identifying and switching from investments which increase fossil fuel use. There are also competing priorities such as the cost-of-living crisis; apparent conflicting information about effective actions; and more recently, a changing political landscape with some politicians framing climate action as no more than a lifestyle preference, partisan opinion, or simply "woke."

Many are now concerned that this political movement will sweep away or, at the very least, slow down any progress made in addressing our multiple environmental crises. In the face of all this, the Church must hold its nerve, be ready to speak prophetically, and – in actions as well as words – it must demonstrate hope and faith in God who is Creator and Redeemer.

Some have suggested that the slow response to climate change is because our environmental crises are not primarily scientific but spiritual. Rowan Willams has suggested that the crisis has "a great deal to do with our failure to think of the world as existing in relation to the mystery of God, not just a huge warehouse of stuff to be used for our convenience."

So how do we, as people of faith, respond to the idea that, at its root, this crisis is spiritual and cultural? Our starting place must be to see creation as sacred rather than disposable; as a gift rather than our possession. It is only a Copernican-like shift in perception which will lead to a change in priorities and in culture, and an acknowledgement of the need to address financial and regulatory issues on scale and at speed. Ultimately, to understand better the interlinked roots of our different crises is spiritual work. To address the fear that some people currently feel is fundamentally a work of love.

The substantial work of addressing the climate crisis is for governments and nations, for big businesses and corporations. But meanwhile, we can play our part by doing what we can, not worrying about what we can't. It may just feel like it's a drop in the ocean, but as St. Teresa of Calcutta said, the ocean is made up of drops. Our small actions can collectively make a huge difference to the health of our planet and to the continuation of life on Earth.

Planned Giving

At this time of year, we usually deliver a thank you letter to all those who have made regular donations to the church by way of our Planned Giving scheme. If you are new to All Saints' and would like to contribute to the running of the church in this way, below is an outline of the process.

Our principal method is through the Parish Giving Scheme (PGS), run by the Church of England. Though nominally aimed at Gift-Aided donations, non-Gift-Aided donations are also quite acceptable. Donation is by monthly Direct Debit to the PGS who claim the 25% Gift Aid repayment on our behalf and then pass this directly to the church, together with the original donation in full each month.

Registration with the PGS can be done on-line at www.parishgiving.org.uk (be sure to include .uk as there is a parishgiving.org in the US). Select Givers/Find your Parish/Springfield All Saints Chelmsford/Regular Giving. Alternatively, if you would prefer to register by post, then please let us know and we will provide you with a paper form. If registering on-line, please also let us know, with your postal address, so that we can keep in touch.

Regular Giving by Standing Order directly to the church is also possible, though donating via the PGS is administratively more efficient for the church.

Further details are available on the PGS website above, on our church website at www.allsaintsspringfield.org.uk (by selecting Get in touch/Donate) and on our Giving Leaflet "How may I support our church financially?".

Churchyard

Another glorious day for our August session in the churchyard and, as it was slightly cooler than recently, we had a great team ready for work. Due to the ongoing heat and lack of rain things are struggling a little, even the brambles are fruiting early.

We tidied in the courtyard and around the flower beds, deadheaded roses, and generated some chippings for the pathways from the very dry debris from previous months. We will meet again at the beginning of September to get ready for the open-air service.

Do come and join us on the first Saturday for any time you can spare. We meet between 9.30am and noon and the next dates are 5 September, 3 October, and 7 November.

Many thanks

Barbara Garside

More nooks and crannies

In response to the articles “Nooks and Crannies” in previous magazines, Doreen Cox has passed on a chorus that she learnt in Sunday School many years ago. She wonders whether others might remember it too.

She lost it, she lost it, her little piece of silver,
Where was it? Where was it? Wherever could it be?
Under the carpet, or down by the door,
inside the cupboard, or somewhere on the floor.
And then she found it! She found it! How happy she could be!
How happy are the children who are called by Thee.

Expressing thanks

Richard Puttock kindly hosted an evening at his house with the ladies who do such wonderful work at the Connect Café every week. Richard says, “This was my way of saying thank you, as the group have really helped me during my bereavement, giving me the strength to go forward, and making new friends in the process.”

A good evening was had by all, with nibbles, fruit juices and something a little stronger! The weather was just perfect, and they sat around talking until well after 9.00pm.

Richard thanks everyone else who has helped to make this “club” possible.

Roy Alexander – in memoriam

Roy was the treasurer at All Saints' Church of a number of funds for 38 years – from 1980 to 2018. He sadly died in June and this tribute is taken from the family's tribute at his service of thanksgiving. The picture shows him being presented with a certificate for 'long and dutiful service'.

Roy was born on 24 April 1931, the first born to Ethel and Ernest Alexander at 33 Milner Road, Selly Park Birmingham, his grandmother's house. He attended Selly Park Primary School – where his first memory on his first day was singing "All Things Bright and Beautiful".

He successfully passed his 11 plus in 1942 and attended Kings Norton Grammar School, where he excelled. His mother was so pleased that on buying his school uniform she embarrassed Roy by putting on a posh accent.

Of course, his school years were during World War II, when Birmingham got heavily bombed - a bomb did land in their back garden! Also from the back garden, Roy and his father watched the blitz on Coventry, seeing the sky glow in the distance.

After leaving school he started work in accountancy, initially in an accountancy firm close by in Selly Oak, which later moved to Birmingham. Part of his training included being a golf caddy to one of the Partners. He qualified as a Chartered Accountant in 1957.

He was subsequently Chief Financial Controller at George Masons, which merged into International Stores. He finally moved to British American Tobacco (B.A.T.) Industries and finished his career at Argos. He also undertook consultancy work with the Duke of Westminster Estate in Liverpool, Brighton and Brixton. This included regular meetings with the Duke of Westminster.

In 1951, whilst undertaking his accountancy training, he met Hazel - working in opposite buildings they made eye contact. They started initially walking to the bus stop, then progressed to meeting on Sundays for visits to the cinema for early evening screenings. Hazel stipulated that they could only marry when he had qualified and they could afford to buy a house. They married in 1957, and lived in Sheldon near Elmdon Airport, now Birmingham Airport.

Jonathan was born 1961. The family then moved to Streety in 1963, and Janice was born in 1964. In 1972, due to Roy's relocation to London for work, the family moved to Springfield.

Roy had numerous interests and hobbies. He was a Birmingham City supporter and went to matches after work on Saturday afternoons. Whilst in Birmingham he managed a youth football team, the Selly Park Blacks who reached the final of their league's Cup.

He was a great cricket fan. In later years he enjoyed watching Essex many times at the county ground. He was a keen leisure cyclist in his younger days, accompanying his aunts when they went cycling.

Another interest was railways - from models (creating a model railway in the loft) to the real thing. He visited Tyseley yard in Birmingham for steam days, and Severn Valley railway in its infancy.

He was a very keen gardener, spending many hours in the garden, particularly when he retired.

He also enjoyed the Formula 1 Grand Prix at Brands Hatch and Silverstone taking Jonathan with him. And with Janice, going to Horse Showjumping at Hickstead and to London for theatre trips.

He also put his accountancy skills to good use in the community. Being treasurer for the PTA's at Hundred Acre Primary School Streety, and later at Boswells school. He was a member of All Saints' Springfield Ramblers, walking many paths in Essex and going on the Ramblers holidays.

He worshipped here at All Saints' since 1972 and was a member of the PCC and became treasurer in 1980 (and for the Almshouse charity and the Church Estates Trust). During his 38 years in post he took the accounts from paper ledgers to computer spreadsheets and improved the governance of the accounts. Possibly one of the biggest challenges was being involved in the finances of the building of the Church Hall.

There were other projects he was involved with the Church, but as well as the finances he enjoyed working with the other members of the PCC, making life-long friends in the process. The family would like to thank the numerous people in the later years who provided him with lifts to the PCC meetings and various sub-committee meetings.

Glaucoma impacted his eyesight greatly, forcing him to give up driving but had the result of Hazel passing her driving test at 62! A great achievement.

In the last 7 years spinal stenosis meant he could no longer walk. However, despite the change of quality of life and his eyesight failing, he showed exceptional mental attitude and stamina.

A true gentleman, kind, considerate, polite, content, always willing to help, a great person to confide in. A loving husband and a fantastic father. He will always be in our hearts and minds forever and ever.

He peacefully passed away at 95 years and just shy of 69 years of marriage.

Introducing Helen Lunn

To those I haven't met – hello! To those I have – thank you for your welcome so far, it has been delightful. It is with great joy that I will be starting as your new Director of Music from September.

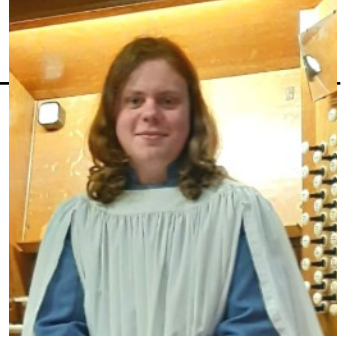

I have been asked to write a few words about myself and my musical journey. It has been a twisting road that has led me here, but one that has provided much happiness and with a lovely destination.

I grew up in Richmond, North Yorkshire, a beautiful market town with a parish church. I was a chorister there between 2010 and 2021, including some years as Head Chorister. In 2018, one of the local organists retired, leaving a vacant post in Downholme, a tiny picturesque village just outside Richmond. As a pianist, I was asked if I wished to take up the role. I spent three years there, where my practice was often accompanied by the many sheep in the next field!

In 2021, I moved from Yorkshire to Liverpool, where I studied Politics and Accounting at Liverpool Hope University. On my first day, I noticed a forgotten-looking organ in the University Chapel, and enquired about it. I spent much of my first year accompanying the Anglican services in the chapel, and in my second year, I was invited to become the university Organ Scholar – becoming the first Music Scholar from outside the Music Department.

At a similar time, I became Organ Scholar at St Mary's, West Derby, a small village just outside Liverpool with a very large church, and with the assistance and support from the music team there and some of the team from Liverpool Metropolitan Cathedral, I spent an extra year after university refining my organ playing.

In 2025, I was appointed Organ Scholar at Chelmsford Cathedral, and I have spent the last year working with Emma Gibbins and Samuel Bristow in the music department, where I have been privileged to hear and be part of excellent music-making. As part of my job there, I played each Sunday at the Sung Eucharist, and would accompany the choir at occasional Choral Evensongs. I have now finished as Organ Scholar, but continue my work at the Cathedral, both writing the weekly orders of service, and as Choir Verger.

On Sunday 6th September, I will move my organ shoes from Chelmsford Cathedral to All Saints', Springfield, where I will play for our service of Choral Evensong. It will be a lovely way to say thank you to Paul Strong, the former Director of Music, who will conduct the choir.

From then, I will be playing and directing the choir on Sunday mornings. I look forward to introducing new music, having new music introduced to me, and working with a high-quality amateur church choir – a real rarity in today's worship scene. I have attended a few services at All Saints', and I am delighted to have the opportunity, with the choir, to enhance the worship we all play a part in each week.
