Eco Questionnaires: Please help us by filling in this year's short green lifestyle questionnaire, so we can compare the results with previous years and see what progress we are making in the ways we care for the environment. The questionnaire is in October's 'in touch' magazine, or you can pick up a copy from the church porch or the church centre entrance, or download it from the website (go to 'Church Life' - 'Eco Church'). It only takes a couple of minutes, and we would like as many people as possible to take part (remember it's one per person, not one per household). Please return your completed questionnaire by Saturday 31st October. Thank you!

Macmillan Coffee Morning in September

This annual coffee morning for Macmillan was very well attended and everyone enjoyed the fellowship, with delicious cakes and tea or coffee. We raised the sum of £753.35. In addition £45 will be claimed by Macmillan on the Gift Aided donations. This an excellent result and I would like to say a very big thank you to everyone who supported this charity and to the bakers and helpers on the morning. Thank you all very much. Elaine Sadler.

Chelmsford Cathedral: The Keene lecture series asks the question: how can we respond to climate crisis with both urgency and faithful expectation? What is asked of us practically, and how do we live well with the uncertainty of the times and the pressing needs of the future? On Tuesday 6 Oct at 7.00pm the Revd Hannah Malcolm contemplates how a life of prayer can assist our love for this fragile earth.
